Encourage students to apply - RSIS Project in India December 2025

We are nearing the deadline for student applications to participate in a once-in-a-lifetime adventure on a Round Square International Service (RSIS) project in India from 6-18 December 2025.

Round Square will be partnering with Daly College, to host a RSIS Project in Panna National Park, near the UNESCO World Heritage city of Khajuraho in Madhya Pradesh. This RSIS Project will see students working on construction of a community library and running a health/ eye camp, contributing to Daly College's long-standing partnership with local village communities.

Both the health and eye-care camps and women's hygiene drive will be led by qualified doctors who support the BAAVAN Trust, and have for many years worked with students from Daly College to meaningfully involve them in the processes of conducting medical appraisals of villagers and, in the case of the eye-care camp, prescribing spectacles.

site on the Vande Bharat Express, a comfortable, air-conditioned train. This extraordinary journey will provide a rare opportunity to see India's changing landscapes, whilst bonding as a team. In addition to the service components, whilst at the Project Site, students will have the opportunity to join two safari experiences in Panna Tiger reserve, and attend the famous Khajuraho temple light show.

Please share this opportunity widely with your students aged 16-18 and encourage them to apply to participate. A RSIS Project Toolkit for promotion with draft emails and posters is available to Round Square Coordinators via the website (login required).

Participants need to arrive into Delhi on 6 December 2025, and will be returned to the airport for departure flights booked on 18 December 2025.

The participation fee is £1,300.

A small number of Discovery Bursaries are available to students for whom financial circumstances would otherwise prevent participation. These cover the full project fee; participants are responsible for flights to and from India.

The Round Square Heads' Symposium – 20th to 24th January 2027 – Hong Kong

Square Heads' Symposium

We are delighted to invite Heads of Round Square Schools to save the dates for the next RS Heads' Symposium, which will take place in 15 months' time, from 20 to 24 January 2027, in Hong Kong.

With grateful thanks to Frederick Poon and his team at St Paul's Coeducational College, you are invited to plan to arrive in Hong Kong on Wednesday 20 January 2027 in time for a late afternoon / early evening reception at our event hotel in Causeway Bay (tbc).

On Thursday 21st we will be coordinating visits to some Round Square Schools in Hong Kong. We will then meet over two full days (Friday 22 and Saturday 23 Jan 2027) for Keynotes, Baraza breakout discussions, and good practice sharing. On the middle evening there will be a dinner cruise.

On Sunday 24th for those who are able to stay on for an extra day, there will be an optional Geopark Island Hopping Tour, which St Paul's has secured for us with the Hong Kong Tourism Board. This will take us on a guided sightseeing tour to Hong Kong's UNESCO Global Geopark, hopping between four sea arches and exploring the geological wonders of the volcanic landscape.

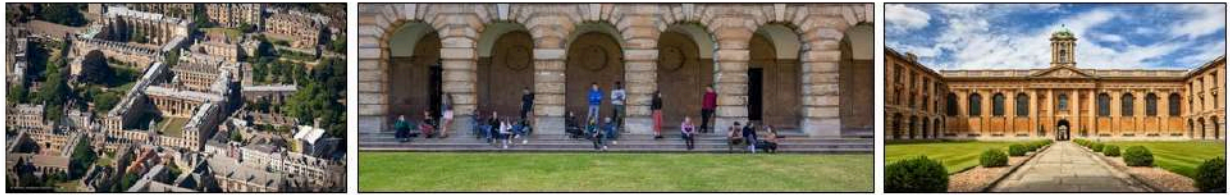

We are currently working with St Paul's to confirm an accommodation option at a preferential rate in the hotel where our meetings will take place. Rates and hotel booking links will be shared in the coming months, along with a registration form.

The delegate fee EXCLUDING accommodation will be in the region of £650 per person.

This event is strictly for Heads of Round Square Schools.

The Round Square Coordinators' Global Assembly - 11 to 15 April 2027 - Oxford UK

Save the dates: 11-15 April 2027 - Oxford, UK -RS Coordinators' Assembly

We are excited to invite Round Square Coordinators/ RS Reps to hold the dates for the inaugural Round Square Coordinators' Global Assembly in 18 months' time, from Sunday 11 April 2027 (arrival) through to Thursday 15 April 2027 (departure) : 4 nights/ 3 days.

The event will take place at Oxford University in the UK, during the University's Easter break. We will be staying in student accommodation at the University, with meals in Halls and social events in the colleges in the evenings.

Each day will feature a programme of good practice carousels, coaching / training, structured networking and collaboration incubation. We will be inviting you to tell us what you would like to see covered on the programme and will plan content, as far as possible to meet everyone's needs, as well as matching experienced practitioners with those keen to learn.

The delegate fee INCLUDING accommodation is still tbc but likely to be £800 per person for single occupancy, and slightly less if you opt for twin. More information will follow. For now, please save the dates!

NB: With the RS Heads' Symposium and the RS Coordinators' Global Assembly both taking place in 2027, there will be no face-to-face Round Square Forums taking place in 2027. Instead there will be a supplementary online meeting, but, wherever possible, schools are encouraged to participate in the Symposium and Assembly events. RS Forums will return in 2028.

Submit your Letters of Commitment for Round Square Conferences in 2026

We are delighted to invite you to submit Letters of Commitment (LoCs) for next year's student events, following the release of the 2026 Round Square Conference Calendar in June.

This is with a huge thank you to our host schools, who have gone the extra mile to get the details together as early as possible. All 2026 RS Conferences through to (but not including) the RSIC2026 opened for LoCs last week. The RSIC will, as usual, be launched at the closing ceremony of this year's RSIC, and open for LoCs towards the end of the year.

Please note that Letters of Commitment will be accepted, and places filled, on a first-come, first-served basis, and some conferences may close early once capacity is reached.

list in case additional places become available. In this case, schools on the waiting list will be contacted in the order they registered. All other conferences still have places available.

A King Constantine Medal Story - Arusha, TCJCS, India

Arusha, a student from The Cathedral and John Connon School in India has been awarded her school's King Constantine Medal for her thoughtful and compassionate service work. Her project began with a desire to understand the lives of Mumbai's street hawkers and grew into broader efforts to support widows in her ancestral village. Arusha has shown how empathy and responsibility can translate into meaningful action.

Pre-Order Round Square Heroes of Discovery Plushies

We are excited to share with you our prototype plush toys of the Round Square Heroes of Discovery.

We are now inviting pre-orders, with the aim of taking 150 orders, at which point we could go into production at a price of £200 per set of 12 dolls including postage and packing (they cannot be sold separately). We need to reach 150 orders to go ahead (if we don't reach the required 150, all orders will be cancelled before payment is taken), so please commit to buying one or more sets if you can (those of you using the RS Heroes) so that everyone can benefit from the opportunity to bulk order.

The RS Heroes Dolls will be manufactured to British Toy Safety Standards, and the company production.

If you would like to order one or more sets, please do so now using THIS ORDER FORM.

Your order will be held on our system until we reach the magic 150 orders, and we will then notify you and invoice your school for payment via BACS transfer or card payment using Stripe.

St Mildred's-Lightbourn School, Canada - Theme: Wired for Change: A Circuit of Connection

Students explored the theme of Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion in STEM, reflecting on the opportunities, challenges, and impact they hope their generation can make in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics. The session built on connections to previous postcards hosted by the school, including discussions on Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion in STEM and Breaking Bridges in STEM.

In breakout sessions, participants discussed barriers to participation in STEM, focusing on inequalities faced by students with limited resources or those living in remote areas. Each group researched and shared projects and initiatives taking place around the world, highlighting ways in which individuals and communities are shattering glass ceilings. The discussions left participants empowered with tools and ideas to create meaningful change in their own communities.

Despite an unexpected fire drill during the session, participants and hosts demonstrated remarkable flexibility, continuing their research and presentations without disruption. While only three of the four groups were able to share slides, the quality of the work showcased the commitment and engagement of all involved.

Thank you to hosts Manha, Isabel, Emery, Michelle, Khushi, Yesha, Araya and Bella.

media and AI

Students presented sustainable initiatives from their schools, aligning their efforts with the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Following an introduction from the host school, participants joined breakout rooms to share their own practices. Some schools focused on waste management and the preservation of plant life, while others discussed strategies for reducing their carbon footprint, conserving energy, and implementing solar power solutions.

The session concluded with a compelling insight from Krishiv at The British School, who highlighted that if every person in the world sent just one fewer text message per day, the energy saved could power 4,000 homes for an entire year.

Thank you to hosts Laila, Tannah, Rhea, Tagara, Aviwe, Anothando, Gabriella, Kabo, Alessia and Abigail.

Thank you to our Round Square History Lab Hosts

As our History Lab series comes to a close, we would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to everyone who contributed to making it such a powerful experience.

Over the past six weeks, more than 700 students from 40 schools across the globe embarked on an extraordinary journey through history. Hosted by twelve schools across four Round Square regions, the History Lab sessions ran twice every Thursday, inviting young historians aged 14 to 18 to engage in rich dialogue, diverse perspectives, and shared discovery.

Each week, students explored a major historical theme by addressing courageous questions such as:

- Who tells history, and what gets left out?
- Was empire a force for progress or oppression?
- Can we still admire historical figures with complex legacies?
- Whose voices are heard in stories of war — and whose are forgotten?
- How do people challenge injustice and spark change?

These sessions reminded us that history is not only about dates and events, but also about perspective, memory, identity, and dialogue.

One of the most exciting additions to the Labs was the exploration of artificial intelligence in deepening historical thinking. Students used AI tools to:

- Compare GPT and LLM narratives on historical events and figures across countries
- Analyse speeches, images, and monuments and how they are remembered
- Explore historical topics through AI-driven prompts
- Uncover underrepresented voices and discover new sources of information

AI was not used to replace thinking, but to enhance questioning, broaden understanding, and explore multiple sides of a story. Students gained insight into how AI can be a powerful ally in helping them become more inquisitive, ethical, and globally minded historians—provided they have the skills to use it thoughtfully and understand its limitations.

Finally, a special thank you to our recent hosts: Shiv Nadar School Noida, India and Malvern St. James School, United Kingdom (2 October), and The Sanskaar Valley School, India and Thomas More College, South Africa (9 October). These sessions were our largest to date and were once again a resounding success.

Another sincere thank you to every host school, every teacher who facilitated, and every student who participated with curiosity, respect, and an open mind. Your voices brought history to life. We look forward to the next chapter of the History Labs in the new year.

Join our Video Celebration for World Hello Day - 21 November

To celebrate World Hello Day on 21 November, we invite you to share videos of your students saying hello from wherever you are in the world, in whichever language you prefer. We want to showcase the breadth of countries and languages covered by schools in Round Square.

How to get involved:

- Record your students saying “hello” - how you approach it, and how many students take part, is up to you. Be creative!
- Share your videos with jason@roundsquare.org

Here are some brief guidelines from our editors to help your clips look their best:

- Please hold the phone or camera sideways (landscape)
- Keep clips short—5 to 10 seconds (you can send more than one!)

- Rest the phone or camera on a solid surface, stand, or tripod for stability

Share your video
